St. Michael's Newsletter

From the Rector

When the day of Pentecost had come, they were all together in one place...All of them were filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other languages, as the Spirit gave them the ability.

(Acts 2:1, 4)

The Day of Pentecost was celebrated by the church-at-large last month on May 19. It is sometimes referred to as the “church’s birthday,” a way of commemorating when the early community of followers of Jesus were given a divine sanction to carry forward the mission and ministry of God and Christ with the gift of the Holy Spirit. As described in the quote above from the Book of Acts, each disciple was able to speak in a different language so that the entire world could hear of the mission and ministry of Christ. Those different languages represented a host of different cultures and customs, and as such probably many different interests. Yet in their differences they were bound together in the “good news” of God in Christ, and empowered by the Holy Spirit, to carry forward this good news as a community of believers – the church.

Sue and I were in Italy in April when the Marathon bombings and subsequent events took place. News reached us quickly, however, through our Italian hosts and emails from home. Our thoughts and prayers were much with everyone here. During our travels in the following weeks, despite our lack of Italian or another’s lack of English, we took note of a change in the conversation when people discovered we were from the Boston area. There was often a poignant pause, and then an offering of sympathy, and a uniting of compassion. Differences of language, culture and faith traditions transcended to a common bond and community of care and concern. We felt the prayers of all.

The Book of Acts notes that on the day of Pentecost all heard the disciples; some were drawn to their message, and some thought they were drunk! Of those who were drawn by it, many were baptized. Over the course of time the disciples themselves branched out to carry forward the message of God and Christ. Others took their place.

Aileen Ryder
to be honored
Sunday, June 9

At St. Michael’s we have been blessed for the past four years with the presence of Aileen Ryder, who has faithfully and gracefully directed our church school and youth ministries. As many know, Aileen is in the ordination process in the Diocese of Massachusetts to become an Episcopal priest. This June she will be leaving St. Michael’s to continue her formation, and continuing spreading the word. While we are sorry to see her leave, she goes with our blessings and thanksgivings. (We will recognize Aileen at coffee hour following the 10:00 service on June 9). Her voice and presence has done much to form and lift children, youth and families here at St. Michael’s. We are now in a search to find a new voice to carry on this ministry.—continued on p.2

Season's Endings, Summer Beginnings

June brings many end of the season celebrations and the beginnings of summer.

St. Catherine's Guild Banquet—June 6, 6:30 pm at the Corinthian Yacht Club with fellowship and drinks at 5:30 pm.

Aileen Ryder Sunday—June 9. We will recognize the love, care and inspiration that Aileen has brought to our children and youth over these last few years.

Service with the Choir—June 9 is the last Sunday until September with the choir leading our hymns and providing inspiring singing during the offertory and Communion. Join Doug in thanking each member for their dedication.

Church School Picnic—June 9, at 12:30 pm.

Church School children, teachers and their families at Stramski, with rain location in the Parish Hall. Fun, food, games and more! All are welcome!

Bible Study—June 12 at 10:30 am. Last session until September.

Parish Aid Society Corporate Communion, Harbor Cruise and Lunch—date to be determined.

Prayer Shawl Ministry meets on Mondays at 11 am through June.

From the Music Director

I'd like to offer a very special thanks to all the St. Michael's Choir members for another beautiful year of singing and leading the worship. These talented and committed people give of their time week after week practicing and singing for the services so very well. Please join me in thanking them for all their long hours and hard work.

Concerning a Children's Choir

To all parents who are interested in having their child (ren) participate in a choir beginning in September: For us to accomplish anything meaningful, we need to rehearse for one hour every week, and parents and children need to make a commitment to that time. I would like to suggest Thursdays from 4:30 - 5:30 pm as our regular choir practice time. Please hold this time in your calendars as you begin to make plans for after-school activities in the fall. Any child in the second grade through the eighth grade is most welcome to join us.

Best wishes for a happy and relaxing summer to all!

- Douglas Major

St. Michael's is also looking to the future through our anticipated capital campaign this fall. By now everyone at St. Michael's has received - and hopefully completed - their questionnaire for to see what projects may be feasible financially. This feasibility study, and the capital campaign, is the work of the community. These proposed projects are the "gift to the parish" in celebration of the St. Michael's 300th anniversary, and most importantly, to continue the work and ministry of God, Christ and the Holy Spirit through the parish for years to come. This feasibility study is the voice of the parish, and capital campaign is the work of the parish: it is the work of the community.

The report on the feasibility study will be presented to the parish on Sunday, July 21, by Leslie Pendleton, our consultant with Episcopal Church Foundation. Please note, by the way, that Sunday worship for July and August will continue with our usual two services at 8:00 a.m. (Rite I), and the other at 10:00 a.m. (Rite II), but with only one service at 9:00 am on Sunday, July 7th.

In our different voices and different gifts of the spirit, we are all of one body and community of faith. Moving into these summer months, as we serve the larger community through the Lobster Lunch, and the discern what we may do through the capital campaign, the end of Eucharistic Prayer A comes to mind: "All this we ask through you Son Jesus Christ. By him, and with him, and in him, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, all honor and glory is yours, Almighty Father, now and for ever." - Fr. Andrew Congratulations and Thank You...

...to Tucker Moulton who graduates from Buckingham, Browne and Nichols this month. Tucker spent his high school senior service project inventorying Archives photos plus objects moved into the Davenport House attic storage. He also battled the ragged shrubs in front of the Church stairs, removing them in time for Rogation planting.

Thank you, Tucker ! This fall, Tucker will be attending Hamilton College in New York.

Joseph R. Andrus, 1816—First Episcopal Overseas Missionary Clergyman

St. Michael's Vestry continued to meet after the departure of the Rev. J.P.K. Henshaw in 1814. The Glebe House was rented and care taken to protect items when the church was closed in winter months. On April 3rd, 1815 a committee was formed to find someone to read services, but there is no report recorded. In December 1815 a committee was formed to correspond with the bishop on opening the church for public worship. Finally on June 13, 1816, a committee of five was "chosen ... for making suitable arrangements for the Approaching ordination of Mr. Jos. R. Andrews."

Joseph Raphael Andrus (1791-1821) was born in Cornwall, Vermont, son of Ethan Andrus, Esq. While attending Middlebury College, 1808-1812, he was drawn to religious revivals and joined the local Congregational church. At graduation he gave his eulogy on George Whitefield, the 18th century English Anglican preacher who helped spread the Great Awakening in England and America.

After graduation, Andrus went to New Haven, Conn., for a year to study under direction of Yale's president, the evangelical Rev. Timothy Dwight. Andrus then went to the Theological Seminary in Andover, Mass., 1813-1815. He was among several "bright stars" whose lives ended early.

Upon graduation in the spring of 1815 Andrus decided to join the Episcopal Church, moving to R.I. to study with Bishop Griswold. It is likely that Griswold sent Andrus up to Marblehead to read services in the spring 1816. In July 1816 the Vestry voted to call Andrus, whose name they spelled as Andrews. Baptisms, deaths and new communicants were once again recorded at St. Michael's beginning June 1816.

Bishop Griswold first expressed great interest in missionary work in his September 1814 address to Convention. At the close of the War of 1812, the Secretary of the Church Missionary Society began corresponding with American bishops on possible joint missionary ventures should the American church form its own missionary group. In July 1816 replied with a copy of his 1814 address, and then in November 1816 put forth the Rev. Joseph R. Andrus as "our aspirant for foreign missions." And so, only months after he had come to St. Michael's the Vestry met on Dec. 2, 1816 to answer his communication that he was "convinced that it is my duty to devote my life to the religious instruction of the heathen." What a blow this must have been to the struggling congregation.

Early on it was thought that Andrus would join British missionaries in Ceylon. But Andrus had to wait until the Episcopal Church had formed its own missionary society.

In April 1817 in Bristol, RI, Andrus was ordained priest and Griswold sent him as a missionary to Concord, Hopkinton and Bradford, New Hampshire. While there a young teacher and Dartmouth student, heard him preach. Carlton Chase, the future first bishop of New Hampshire, was baptized by Andrus in May 1817.

Andrus did not stay long in New Hampshire. While in college he had become interested in the plight of Africans. He soon moved to Virginia where he preached to both blacks and whites. One of the churches he served was St. Paul's Church, King George County, a church like St. Michael's trying to get back on its feet. There an independent woman, Judith Lomax (1774-1828) wrote of him in her Sabbath Journal on 17 August, 1820:

Have heard from my late Pastor, and spiritual friend; he is destin'd to labour in a distant land, and an unhealthy climate, far from his native home, and the friends to whom his worth has endear'd him, but he goes 'bound in the spirit,' and the Lord will I trust be with him, ... go preach to the benighted heathen, proclaim to Africa the glad tidings of Salvation, until the song of joy shall resound throughout the land, ... and may Africa feel her freedom in the liberty of the Gospel!

In 1820 the General Convention of the Episcopal Church voted to form The Protestant Episcopal Missionary Society in the United States for Foreign and Domestic Missions. In November 1820 Griswold wrote to London, "Mr. Andrus, whose zeal in the good cause is in no way abated, has been engaged as a missionary and agent for the Colonization Society on the coast of Africa, for which field of labor he has several weeks hence departed. His labor, we trust, will be much aided and be more useful by being conducted in concert with those of your missionaries along the coast."

The American Colonization Society was formed in 1816 to support the return of blacks to Africa and hopefully greater freedom than in America. In January 1821 Andrus, with 3 other white agents and 28 blacks, sailed for Sierra Leone in Africa, thus becoming the first American Episcopal clergyman to serve as an overseas missionary. The next 4 months were discouraging as Andrus and others traveled south along the coast looking for a hospitable area for a settlement. Many of the leaders along the coast were still involved with the slave trade. Andrus decided that he would return to the states, resign from the Colonization Society, and then return as a missionary. At the last moment, he gave his sailing berth to his ill colleagues, Mr. & Mrs. Ephraim Bacon. Shortly thereafter, he became ill himself and died just 8 days later on 28 July 1821.

On 8 December 1821 Julie Lomax wrote: "The Friend of God,—the Friend of Man, is no more,—he...has got home to his Father's house before me...the gentle spirit of Andrus..." - Frances Stith Nilsson, Historic Church Com.

Our Stewards of the Month: Anne and Sam Davis

Anne and Sam Davis grew up Episcopalian in Swampscott and they were married there at Holy Name Church. But they moved to Marblehead because rent was cheaper than in Swampscott. In 1950, they lived at 23A Pleasant Street opposite the old Parish Hall. Sam remembers that their rent was $39.67 a month!

In 1960 they moved to Acton where they were active in the church. Anne was co-chair of The Fish Program which provided services like meals, babysitting, driving for people in need. Sam was on the committee to build the Church of the Good Shepherd. "Building a church from scratch is a time-consuming task," says Sam with a smile. He was the Junior Warden at the time.

After 16 years in Acton, they returned to Marblehead and St. Michael's where Anne became the first woman Senior Warden in 1984 with Alma Howie as the Junior Warden.

Anne is a lay reader and along with Sam belongs to the Parish Aid. She is a member of St. Catherine's Guild and volunteers at the Thrift Shop on Wednesdays. She was the delegate to Episcopal Church Women triennial conventions in New Orleans and Indianapolis. "We heard all the speeches of the General Convention as well because it was held at the same time. It was a really wonderful experience," says Anne. She also is an active member of the Society of the Companions of Holy Cross which owns Adelynrood, a retreat center in Byfield.

Her favorite activity at St. Michael's is the Wednesday Bible Study. Sam adds, "I have been an usher for years and years."

Anne earned an Associate's Degree in Social Work from Middlesex Community College. The program was designed for people returning to work, but Anne volunteered with the Catholic Family Service in Lynn. "I wanted the church component," says Anne. She served on the State Board for foster children for several years.

Sam attended Babson College and then worked for John Hancock for many years. He was the General Director of Marketing and travelled a lot. After his retirement, he worked as a loaned executive to the United Way for 9 years. He is also past president and board member of the Family and Children's Service of Greater Lynn, an organization of which he says, "It is still close to our hearts." In Marblehead, he is a past president of The Old Marblehead Improvement Association and a current board member. Although Sam had cancer last year, he says, "I feel fine but I get tired easily."

Anne and Sam have two daughters Elizabeth* and Jennifer and three granddaughters, Katharine, Emily, and Lavinia. Their son Lawrence died in an auto accident as a child.

In addition to their church and charitable activities, they have travelled all over the world. They especially remember a balloon trip in Kenya over the Kalahari Desert where they saw lions, wildebeests, and zebras all peaceably drinking together at the river at sunrise.

At home, Anne finds time to garden and Sam has been kept busy maintaining their 1710 house that may in fact be as old as 1687, which would make it one of the oldest inhabited houses in the country. "An old house is a major source of maintenance," notes Sam.

This ongoing series highlights good stewards in St. Michael's community. - Marilyn Day

*Betsy Davis Russell was Co-Director of the Davenport House Children's Enrichment Center in its first year as a St. Michael's after school program in the 1980s, before she moved to Maine.

St. Michael's Episcopal Church Marblehead, Massachusetts

Our Mission is to seek transformation in God's grace by worshipping God in prayer, song, and study; loving and serving our neighbor in and outside our parish Community; and being good stewards of God's creation.

Our Vision is to be a Mission-driven Episcopal congregation that by 2014 will be widely recognized as a vibrant, open, and inviting community, known for liturgically-centered worship and music, for lifelong learning, for pastoral presence and service to communities near and far, for good stewardship of our resources, and for celebration of our legacy as an historic church.

Yes, in just 4 short weeks St. Michael's will be donning our aprons and hats and dishing out lobster rolls and hot dogs to the throngs of Marblehead and surrounding communities. Lobster salad on a bed of lettuce we expect to increase in popularity. Don't miss this opportunity to dish up Marblehead's favorite food to your friends and neighbors while raising funds for charities.

Sign up sheets are in the parish hall so keep your eyes peeled or you may miss your chance to get your favorite duty—in the kitchen, in the dining area, selling hats, promoting St. Michael's or baking treats! Donations to defray costs are also welcome.

Have visiting friends and relatives? Sign them up to help or send them off to events and exhibits while you serve your shift. And of course, bring them to lunch!

100% of all net proceeds go to our local charities and to our sister parish and school, St. Thomas, in Arcahaie, Haiti. This is an excellent opportunity to remind the town of the generous hearts of the parishioners of St. Michael's and that we still know how to throw a fabulous lobster lunch too.

Start Baking NOW!

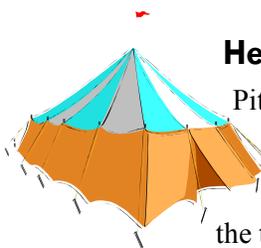

Once again the Lobster Lunch Committee asks the very generous bakers of St. Michael's to supply the cookies for this year's 4-day event. Last year we asked the parishioners to start baking cookies in June and it turned out to be an overwhelming success. This year we have decided to just bake two types of cookies and no rice krispie squares (they did not hold up in the heat).

Market Basket has a brand of cookie dough called Take n' Bake and you can find this in their produce section near the eggs. The two types of cookies are: Chocolate Chip and Oatmeal Raisin. You can also use the Nestle Toll House cookie dough for the chocolate chip cookies.

Each package makes 24 cookies. Put two cookies in one baggie and then put one or two dozen of these baggies in a larger zip lock freezer bag and mark on the outside the quantity and the type. This will help us with the count and type.

You can start baking now and bring to St. Michael's and place in the freezer.

Help Us "Pitchure" the Tent!

Pitching a tent on the lawn has made all the difference in the success of the Lobster Lunch, boosting attendance and sales. Help us prepay for the tent by making a donation. Be a sponsor for $25, $50 or more.

Check the easel in the Parish Hall as donations come in to raise the tent and fill it with people.

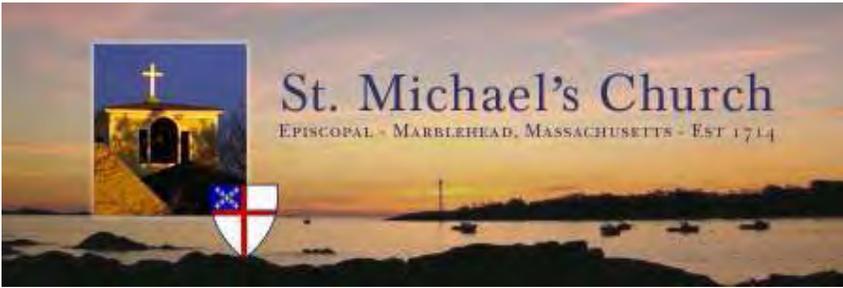

Summer Thrift Shop

The Thrift Shop continues through the summer. Bring in those pretty summer items and special occasion dresses that no longer fit. We can recycle, benefit the Church' finances and spread great joy in town. Please think of the Thrift shop before you put an ill fitting item back in your closet. We are also looking for patriotic July 4th decorations and summer housewares.

Summer Archives Intern

Please welcome Katharine Bittenbender, a history major at Salem State University, who will be helping us prepare for our Tercentenary celebration. Katharine will be working on Tuesdays and Friday mornings under the supervision of Rob Howie and Frances Nilsson.
